

SANDYLINE TUFF

A totally original storage system

In order to adapt to all shapes of bottles, only carefully selected materials are used: golden sand (without dust) inside a modular shelf system open at the top. Reminiscent of a sanctuary, these shelves come with tuff columns.

Made of naturally solidified volcanic ash, SandyLine Tuff is highly efficient in regulating humidity.

Obvious advantages:

- 5 different modules
- a bed of sand adapted to all sizes and shapes of bottles
- an ideal micro climate thanks to tuff columns
- improved temperature control thanks to the thermal mass
- bottle shelves and sand included
- simple construction

SandyLine shelf units are delivered with a layer of sand - a world exclusivity. When combined with tuff, they ensure perfect atmospheric humidity.

Traditional bins for the discerning connoisseur

This system of modular compartments is an ARCAve classic.

The MULTI system consists of 8 different types of compartments in traditional, functional shapes conducive to an infinite number of combinations. This system was introduced by ARCAve over 30 years ago and is still very popular.

The compartments are made of burned clay that absorbs hygroscopic moisture and releases it when the air is too dry. Shelf indentations are adapted to wine bottles and prevent any movement.

Obvious advantages:

- 8 different modules for tailor-made cellar layout
- an ideal micro climate thanks to porous material
- practical partitioning and convenient bottle compartments
- improved temperature control thanks to the thermal mass
- simple construction and extendability

Imperial – the wine rack made of Royal Tuff

The royal tuff used to build Imperial wine cellars was formed 90 million years ago by overlapping layers of sediment. Pressure exerted over eons re-crystallized this material, naturally petrifying it.

This white royal tuff makes wine storage an art that is both, modern and timeless, with a class that goes beyond any trends or fashions. Imperial is made with the finest building material ever used to outfit a wine cellar - and this is as true today as it will be tomorrow.

Obvious advantages:

- 2 different modules
- an ideal micro climate thanks to tuff columns
- predominantly suitable for the bordelaise bottle shapes
- bottles may roll if you don't use our bottle stops
- simple construction
- easy assembly (mortar recommended)

Imperial - modern and timeless

Traditional bin system for any cellar

The Cavo collection consists of ideal all-purpose wine bins. Cavo shelving units are the most widely-used and popular storage system, suitable for even the most demanding wine lover.

The classic design speaks for itself and sets this system apart from all others. The traditional H-shaped configuration immediately shows this to be an ARCAve creation.

Made of natural stone and extremely solid, Cavo is the ideal complement to an existing wine cellar.

Obvious advantages:

- 4 different modules
- natural stone
- improved temperature control thanks to the thermal mass
- shelves and compartments specially designed for wine bottles
- unbeatable price and efficiency
- simple construction

A bin system for fine restaurants

This affordable, attractive modular system makes maximum use of space and is especially well-adapted to the needs of restaurants. The porous natural stone (burned clay) ensures an appropriate micro-climate for wine storage. The HydroTon units absorb hygrosopic moisture and release it when the air is too dry. This contributes greatly to maintaining stable atmospheric conditions.

Your individual bottles can be easily stored and placed in the columns.

Obvious advantages:

- 7 different types of modules
- corner shelves units make optimum use of available space
- an ideal micro climate thanks to porous material
- improved temperature control thanks to the thermal mass
- modules with large compartments that are ideal for the restaurant trade
- compact, easy to transport

COLLECTION - RACK 90

A wine tower for your individual bottle collections

Thanks to an exclusive system of sliding trays, all your bottles are easily accessible and stored with maximum security. The CollectionRack 90 was designed to display and store 90 bottles in single rows. Furthermore, it can easily be combined with our natural stone modular units due to its adapted depth.

Thanks to specially-designed sliding trays, labels and vintages are easily visible without having to handle the bottles.

The depth of 35 cm means that no bottle is too tall to fit on the tray.

Obvious advantages:

- sliding trays
- created to hold 90 individual 0.75 l standard bottles
- bottles are easy to see and very accessible
- a secure place for every bottle
- ideal for flute shaped bottles (ie. Alsations, German Rieslings, etc.)

Maximum flexibility

Standing up or lying down? Natural corks or screw caps? From now on, different ways of storing wine and different sorts of closures are no longer contradictory thanks to VarioRack, which combines both possibilities in attractively designed units.

Invented by aroundwine, these innovative new wine racks now provide ideal storage for bottles of more different sizes and shapes than any other previous storage system. VarioRack is especially well-adapted to flute (Riesling-type) bottles.

Intelligently designed, the racks and modular sections can be combined and configured an infinite number of ways.

Obvious advantages:

- Riesling bottles fit perfectly
- Possibility to extend the units
- horizontal and vertical storage
- for bottles with modern closures

ARCAVE VAULTED CELLARS

ARCave

An ancestral vaulted cellar for the twenty-first century

An increasingly large number of people appreciate fine wine and have become very knowledgeable about it. However, many of them do not have a place to store wine. The cellars in modern buildings are hot and dry. The only satisfactory solution for wine lovers is to have a cool, humid cellar. It is easy to build an ARCave cellar next to your house, underneath the garden.

ARCave vaults are made to order in our factory and can be installed on-site in 2 to 3 hours. Clay, a natural building material, has the amazing ability to regulate temperature and humidity. It thus creates an excellent microclimate in ARCave cellars.

Obvious advantages:

- thermoactive and anti-bacterial characteristics, regulates temperature and humidity (energy saving) due to the use of clay
- attractively priced: quick and inexpensive to build thanks to prefabricated elements
- build to order (please refer to the measurement charts on www.arcave.de)
- a complete program of vaults
- arches without angels, so air can not stagnate and encourage mould in the corners!

Please consult our Website www.arcave.de or contact us for further information.
